BENSON HILL®

A frontier in food innovation. New revenue opportunities for farmers.

Consumer demand for more nutritious and sustainable protein sources is driving rapid growth of value-added markets like plant-based protein. Soy is the powerhouse of plant-based protein but hasn't received focus on quality traits to serve this market. Until now.

ADM® and Benson Hill® have partnered in a first-of-its-kind collaboration to deliver innovative soy ingredients specifically designed for this booming market. This represents a new frontier in food innovation designing ingredients for fast-growing markets starting with better seed. And we invite you to be a part of it.

We're combining the strengths of our companies in partnership with US farmers to make ingredients that are better from the beginning:

- Benson Hill e42P713 Ultra-High Protein, non-GMO Soybeans that can help minimize processing and increase sustainability benefits in ingredient production.
- ADM is dedicating its extensive soy protein ingredient manufacturing capacity to the use of these soybeans to serve its food ingredient customers.
- Together, we are offering new revenue opportunities for farmers who want to be part of this new seed-to-fork frontier of food innovation.

ADM and Benson Hill are now contracting Benson Hill's Ultra-High Protein Non-GMO soybean varieties for the 2023 growing season in your area.
